Scholarship Winners

The Nebraska Section PGA presented four (4) UNL-PGM PGA Students a $1,000 scholarship for the 2018-2019 school-year. The recipients were, Cordell Weber, Travis Loudner, Zac Morley and Doris Zhao. "Receiving this scholarship means a lot to me as it helps me pay for my tuition. Receiving a Nebraska Section PGA Scholarship is a tremendous honor and something I am very proud to have received today," -Cordell Weber.

Friesen Captures Harris Golf Cars Pro-Am

Omaha, Nebraska – Near perfect scoring conditions welcomed Nebraska PGA Professionals and their amateur guests to Tiburon G.C. for the Harris Golf Cars Pro-3Am. It was evident early on that everyone was shaking off some winter rust but as the temperatures rose so did the level of play as afternoon scoring was around par or better. Steve Friesen of Firethorn G.C. made his professional debut in the Section and got off to a solid start with an opening nine-holes of one-under-par 35. Over the course of his next 18-holes, Friesen posted six-under-par 66 to finish at seven-under-par 101 and clip the reigning Nebraska Section PGA OMEGA Player of the Year, Ryan Vermeer, PGA of Tiburon G.C. by one stroke. Vermeer took advantage of the par 5's as he birdied all six of them on his card. However, he was unable to capitalize on some home course knowledge when he needed to convert a birdie. Nick Wanderscheid, PGA of Green Valley G.C. also had a solid round of golf but an untimely triple-bogey seven on the par 4 second hole of the Mako course ended up costing Wanderscheid the chance to catch Friesen. Jim White, PGA MP who recently celebrated his 68th birthday showed the entire field he game is ready for the 2018 season as he attempts to add onto his record setting 19-time Nebraska PGA Player of the Year award.

Inaugural “Legends and Young Guns Golf Classic” A Huge Success

EAGLE, NE – Over 600 years separated the experience of the Nebraska Section PGA Members and UNL-PGM Students who teed it up in the inaugural “Legends and Young Guns Golf Classic” at Woodland Hills G.C. However, in one round of golf relationships for a lifetime were made. “Although we are separated by four or five decades, we are just as passionate about the game of golf and to spend the afternoon with the next generation of PGA Members was very rewarding for all of the PGA Members who played,” said John Crow, PGA, Past-President of the Nebraska Section PGA. The event kicked off with a morning open forum session and during this session it was evident the UNL-PGM PGA Students were soaking up this opportunity to interact with Nebraska PGA Members who were either 50+ or had 20+ years’ experience as a PGA Member. “As a student to have the opportunity to learn from and interact with these PGA Members who have had tremendous careers and ask them questions about how to begin my career was priceless,” said Cordell Weber, UNL-PGM PGA Student. Career Consultant Update

From the Field: April Member Update

Jeff "JD" Drimel, PGA/PGA Career Consultant

Dear District 8 PGA Members,

April is Spring Kickoff?!

Even though the weather has been challenging we all must ask ourselves, "Will you be the Black Cloud or the Ray of Sunshine?"

The District 8 Spring Meetings have all been completed and hats off to your Section Leaders! Strategic Plans were revealed, sponsorships renewed, Member Education programs have been delivered and updates given...2018 will be a great year for District 8!

This month's topic is a continuation of my message, compliments of a seasoned PGA Member who stated, "Show'em you are Worth It!"

- ☐ Keep track of the revenues you add to your facilities...communicate it.
- ☐ Record the number of NEW golfers you add, attract and develop...report it.
- ☐ Engage lapsed golfers and get them to play more...enjoy it.
- ☐ Remind your teams about your "WHY?"...build it.
- ☐ Play golf with your customers...promote it.
- ☐ Plan your career and opportunities...think about it.
- ☐ Tell your story...be proud of it!

REMINDER: Our March Topic was Madness...this time of year is both exciting and scary. We are all putting together our teams for the golf season and we have heard you loud and clear...it's getting harder to find quality staff members. Some helpful hints include; pay them a livable wage, consider a week-end off here and there, pay for educational opportunities and PGA Membership levels and most of all, be a great MENTOR. Being a great Mentor is worth much more than any wages can offer.

☐ A challenge to all...reach out to ONE PERSON and ask them to be your Mentor. No matter how old you are, no matter what stage of your career you are in, accept this challenge and begin a new chapter, a new relationship, that may become a friend for a lifetime.

Please contact me anytime and I look forward to seeing you all very soon.

Thanks for your time and the opportunity to serve YOU and the Association.

Merchandiser of the Year—Private

It was an honor to be named the Merchandiser of the Year for private facilities in the Nebraska Section and be able to share a few things we have done at FGC. After being named the Head Golf Professional at Fremont Golf Club in 2013 I quickly realized that one of the most important aspects of being a PGA Professional at FGC was the ownership and success of the merchandise operation. After evaluating the previous merchandise programs at FGC we quickly identified opportunities for growth and based on this, created a long range plan equipped with philosophies and training. The long range plan focused on updating and improving the appearance of the golf shop as well as sales success of the merchandise operation. I could have never predicted the visual improvements in our golf shop and sales success we would have after five years.

In addition to improving the visual aspects of FGC we also wanted to take advantage of technology to make our operation more efficient and successful. We started by installing a POS system which allowed us to track our sales, inventory as well as start using gift cards. Next, in 2017, we implemented ForeTees along with the Club-Central App by ForeTees. The app allows our membership to have access to tee times, event sign ups as well as any merchandise information we want to promote on the app via push notifications in the palm of their hand. We found that 72% of our tee times were booked via the phone app so we can be confident that our membership is viewing our information. Finally, we have purchased a Flightscope launch monitor which allows our members to be fit via state of the art technology. We have no doubt that the improvements in technology we have brought to FGC has directly contributed to sales growth we have experienced. Each offseason we continue to look at new and innovative ideas to increase the value of our merchandise operation to FGC.

As a PGA Professional we have an opportunity to show our owners and managers our value in the merchandise space. By increasing sales we have the ability to directly impact the bottom line of our clubs. I encourage each of you to focus on your merchandising operation and identify opportunities that would allow you to increase sales and create more revenue for your facility.

If I can ever be of assistance, please reach out and I can share more detailed information.

Have a great 2018 season!!!

Rule Tip

“April showers bring May flowers.” Did you know that this familiar rhyme, often heard this time of year, can be traced back to the mid-16th century? In 1557, an English poet and farmer, Thomas Tusser, wrote, “Sweet April showers, do spring May flowers” in his work A Hundred Good Points of Husbandry. In this month’s quiz, see if you are able to select the correct ruling for each of the following flower-infused situations:

1. Petunia’s drive with a yellow ball ends up in a large patch of dandelions. Unfortunately, there are so many blooming dandelions that no one can find her ball within five minutes of her commencing the search. However, everyone agrees that it is virtually certain that Petunia’s ball is hiding somewhere within the dandelions. Which of the following is correct? (a) Since it is virtually certain that her ball is in the dandelion patch, Petunia’s ball is not lost. Without penalty, Petunia may drop a ball outside of the dandelion patch no nearer the hole than the estimated point where her original ball came to rest. (b) Petunia may drop a ball anywhere within the dandelion patch under penalty of one stroke. (c) Petunia must return to the teeing ground under penalty of stroke and distance.

2. Heather’s ball comes to rest within a group of azalea bushes. She deems her ball unplayable and drops a ball about 20 feet behind the azaleas pursuant to Rule 28b. After playing the dropped ball into the fairway, she discovers that the azaleas have been designated as ground under repair by Local Rule. Heather abandons the ball in the fairway and drops and plays another ball after taking relief from the azaleas pursuant to Rule 25 [Abnormal Ground Conditions]. How many penalty strokes has Heather incurred in this stroke-play scenario? (a) None (b) One (c) Two (d) Three (e) Four (f) Five.

3. Pansy’s ball comes to rest just in bounds near a pair of lilac bushes that are rooted out of bounds. When she takes a practice swing, she accidentally knocks down a branch holding several large lilac blossoms, thereby improving the area of her intended swing. What is the ruling? (a) Since the lilac bushes are rooted out of bounds, Pansy incurs no penalty. (b) Pansy incurs a one stroke penalty. (c) Pansy incurs a loss of hole penalty in match play or a two-stroke penalty in stroke play. (d) Pansy can avoid the penalty by altering her direction of play provided the broken branch does not improve the area of her intended swing for the stroke in the new direction.

Answers:

1. (c) See Rule 27-1c [Ball Not Found Within Five Minutes] which states, in part, “If a ball is lost as a result of not being found or identified as his by the player within five minutes after the player’s side or his or their caddies have begun to search for it, the player must play a ball, under penalty of one stroke, as nearly as possible at the spot from which the original ball was last played....” Note that, had the dandelion patch been designated as ground under repair, then Petunia would have been able to take relief from the dandelions under Rule 25 [Abnormal Ground Conditions] since it was known or virtually certain that the original ball was lost in an abnormal ground condition.

2. (d) Heather incurred the first penalty stroke when she proceeded in accordance with Rule 28 [Ball Unplayable]. According to Decision 28/13 [After Deeming Ball Unplayable and Lifting It, Player Discovers Ball Was in Ground Under Repair], once a player has put a ball into play under Rule 28 [Ball Unplayable], he is not permitted to then take relief, without penalty, under Rule 25 [Abnormal Ground Conditions] for the ground under repair. When Heather dropped and played another ball thinking that she could proceed under Rule 25, she was in breach of Rule 15-2 [Substituted Ball] for wrongly substituting a ball and Rule 20-7 [Playing from Wrong Place] for playing from a wrong place. In stroke play, Heather incurred an additional penalty of two strokes for playing from a wrong place, but there is no additional penalty for incorrectly substituting a ball. See the Exception to Rule 15-2.

3. (c) According to Rule 13-2 [Improving Lie, Area of Intended Stance or Swing, or Line of Play], generally, a player must not improve the area of his intended swing by moving, bending or breaking anything that is growing. See Decision 13-2/19 [Improving Area of Intended Swing by Moving Growing or Fixed Object Situated Out of Bounds]. Also see Decision 13-2/24 [Area of Originally Intended Swing Improved by Breaking Branch; Area of Intended Swing Finally Used Not Affected by Branch] which points out, “The player was in breach of Rule 13-2 as soon as he improved the area of the originally intended swing. The penalty is not avoided if he subsequently plays in another direction, even if the breaking of the branch had no effect on the area of the swing for a stroke in the new direction.”

United States Junior Ryder Cup Team

PGA of America Announces Official Qualifying Events for 2018 United States Junior Ryder Cup Team

The 11th Junior Ryder Cup will be contested between the U.S. and Europe Sept. 24-25 at Disneyland Paris

PALM BEACH GARDENS, FLA. (April 17, 2018) – As the countdown begins to the 11th Junior Ryder Cup at Disneyland Paris in Marne-la-Vallée, France, Sept. 24-25, the PGA of America has announced the official qualifying events and eligibility rules for the selection of the 2018 United States Junior Ryder Cup Team.

The U.S. Team will feature six boys and six girls who are U.S. citizens and members of the high school graduating class of 2019, or younger. In addition to the Junior Ryder Cup, there will be a coinciding Friendship Match at Le Golf National, site of the 2018 Ryder Cup, on Sept. 26. As well, the U.S. and European Junior Ryder Cup Teams will be a part of the Opening Ceremonies on Sept. 27. The American team is vying for its sixth straight victory in the biennial competition.

Among the Junior Ryder Cup alumni are major champions, PGA Tour and LPGA Tour players including: Jordan Spieth, Justin Thomas, Hunter Mahan, Tony Finau, Lexi Thompson, Alison Lee and Brittany Altomare of the United States; and Rory McIlroy, Sergio Garcia, Nicolas Colsaerts, Suzanne Peterson, Emily Pedersen and Carlota Ciganda of Europe.

The six girls who qualify for the 2018 U.S. Junior Ryder Cup Team will be announced on July 23, following the U.S. Girls Junior Championship. The six boys who will join them on the team will be announced following the conclusion of the Boys Junior PGA Championship on Aug. 3. There will be 10 players who qualify as exemptions and two Captain's picks.

To be eligible for the 2018 U.S. Junior Ryder Cup Team, all players must compete in their respective Junior PGA Championship and achieve one of the following qualifications:

2018 Exemptions

- 43rd Girls Junior PGA Championship winner and runner-up (total of 2), contested July 9-12, at Kearney Hill Golf Links in Lexington, Kentucky. *
- 43rd Boys Junior PGA Championship winner and runner-up (total of 2), contested July 31-Aug. 3, 2018 at Valhalla Golf Club in Louisville, Kentucky. *

*If the Girls Junior PGA Champion and/or Boys Junior PGA Champion is not eligible, the next higher ranked player on the corresponding U.S. Junior Ryder Cup points list will be selected. In the event of a tie for 2nd place between two eligible players in either the Girls Junior PGA Championship and/or Boys Junior PGA Championship, there will be a hole-by-hole playoff immediately following play to determine the spot. If the champion or runner-up is not eligible, the next highest ranked player on the corresponding U.S. Junior Ryder Cup points list will be selected.

- 2018 U.S. Girls Junior Champion, to be contested July 16-21, 2018, at Poppy Hills Golf Course in Pebble Beach, California. **
- 2018 U.S. Junior Amateur Champion, to be contested July 16-21, at Baltusrol Golf Club in Springfield, New Jersey. **

If the U.S. Girls Junior Champion and/or the U.S. Junior Amateur Champion is not eligible, the next corresponding highest ranked player on the U.S. Junior Ryder Cup points list will be selected.

- Top two boys and top two girls from the U.S. Junior Ryder Cup Points List (see charts below), which began awarding points at the 2017 Polo Golf Junior Classic. Events earning points will include: multiple AJGA Invitationals, USGA Junior Championships, Junior PGA Championships and select independent events, such as the Orange Bowl International Junior, Kathy Whitworth Girls Invitational and Scott Robertson Memorial. In addition, points are awarded to those juniors who make the cut in a 2017/2018 PGA Tour, LPGA Tour or USGA national event. All U.S. Junior Ryder Cup Points List ties will be broken by each player's respective 2018 Junior PGA Championship finish.

Captain's Pick:

The final two spots will be one boy and one girl Captain's pick. For these selections, the PGA will consider multiple national ranking systems, such as Golfweek/Sagarin Rankings, Junior Golf Scoreboard, Rolex AJGA Rankings and World Amateur Golf Rankings to pinpoint the remaining top boy/girl selections.
